4. PUBLIC RELATIONS

The Economic Counsellors of this office have maintained regular contacts with U.S. Federal and State Development agencies, representatives of American and Canadian banks, trade associations, and Canadian consulates in the United States.

In the area of general information and public relations, during the last six months this office has started to establish contacts with the business and travel press of the major centers in the United States. The information function is geared primarily to support and complement the work of our tourism and industrial development groups, consequently our interest in the press is mainly with the business and travel editors of the major dailies, periodicals and, in some cases, the program directors of radio and television stations.

Our office being located in New York, most of the contacts have been done in the city. However, trips have been made to Washington, Boston, and Chicago, for the above-mentioned purpose. In the future, other major centers, such as Los Angeles, San Francisco, Dallas, and Atlanta are scheduled for visits by our Information Director. During these visits we acquaint the news and media people with the wealth of information on Quebec available to them from our office. We offer our full collaboration on any news or feature story that they may be planning on Quebec, and we try to establish a limited but efficient mailing list through these contacts for our information and press releases, whether they are of economic, trade, travel or general interest.

Additional functions of the Information Service include the answering of specific questions regarding conditions of immigration to Canada, and more particularly to the Province of Quebec, and also many queries concerning our educational system.
